Incremental Injustice

Motivated cases for altering status of places of worship must be discouraged

➔ About the editorial: .

The editorial is about the Gyanvapi Mosque case in which recently SC granted permission for a survey . The editorial tells that places of worship act should be upheld and such permission by court should not be given

➔ About Gyanvapi case:

The current case was filed on 12 may 2022 by some women who wanted that the be allowed daily worship at the premises of Gyanvapi Mosque which they used to perform prior to 1990s . They also called for survey of whole site . Sessions court granted permission for survey . A shivling was found during survey . SC sealed the area of shivling by its order and the asked for indefinite stay on survey . On July 21 both sessions court of Varanasi and Allahbad high court allowed the survey .SC also allowed it. .

Daily worship used to go under one of its premises daily till 1990s . After 1993 , worship one day at a year was permitted . The petitioner women wanted that daily worship be allowed .

➔ Places of Worship Act 1991 –

Places of worship act freezes status of all places of worship as on August 15 , 1947 , means no alteration in worship places will be done and it will be kept as on 15 August 1947 .

Courts has hold this in many of its arguments

Editorial however say that allowing survey which will try to find out if there was a structure like temple before the mosque may be in direction of places of worship act and has not been permitted .

Editorial 2

A tentative rethink

The GST councils retake on gaming bets does not provide enough certainty

➔ Places of Worship Act 1991 –

In 51 st meeting of GST council , FM Nirmala Sitharaman promised to look into tax slab for Gaming , six months after its implementation . The editorial talks about its current status and tells that GST council should not be swayed away by disaffection by certain group over tax for gaming

➔ About GST on gaming :

GST council in its 50 th meet a month ago had decided to impose 28 % GST to online gaming , betting and similar industries . Industry persons had called it death knell to the flourishing industry such as gaming .Gaming has been put under sunrise industry , means govt looks a lot of investment in gaming sector and tells that its policies will be to attract investment in this sector . But increased GST was seen as death knell to the industry by many . FM however clarified that the tax will be on initial money and not winning amount , for example a person enters casino and puts 1000 rs if he wins ₹300 more . The tax will be on initial amount ₹1000 and not on winning amount. This has soothe neeve to many . Despite states like Goa and Sikkim has expressed displeasure over this .

It will be interesting to look what govt decides 6 months after its implementation

However GST councils decison should not be soloose that it need to review it in 6 months.
