➔ Article 370 case : SC asks Petitioner – MP to file affidavit pledging allegiance to constitution

The supreme cou rr said on Monday that it wants National Conference Party leader Mohammad Akbar Lone , a petitioner in Article 370 abrogation challenge case , to file an affidavit stating that he " unconditionally accepts " that Jammu and Kashmir is an integral part of India and he owes allegiance to the constitution .

A constitution Bench headed by CJI DY Chandrachud asked Mr. Lone to file an affidavit by Tuesday .

Mr. Lone is a National Conference MP , and a petitioner in Article 370 abrogation case . He was alleged to have sloganeering as " Pakistan Zindabad " in Jammu and Kashmir assembly . Solicitor General Tushar Mehta informed court that Mr. Lone had links with secessionist groups in Jammu and Kashmir

➔ CJI asks Petitioner if Article : 370 is above basic structure and amending powers of parliament .

Advocate Kapil Sibal was emphasizing that Article 370 is of permanent nature and that after dissolution of constituent assembly it can not be abrogated .

" So there is out constitutional provision to which even amending power available in respect to the rest of the constitution under Article 369 is unavailable " This provision lies even above the basic structure " .CJI questioned his logic .

Mr. Sibal cited that the abrogation was a " political process " .

" In other words , you are saying there is no solution to Kashmir within the constitution ... That we have to look outside the constitution ... Is that your hypothesis ? Mr. Sibal , all sibal have to be within the constitution , " the chief justice said
